

End-of-Program Review 2011-12

Addressing Oppression, Privilege and Difference - Sustainability and Justice Programs (S&J)

Did your program address issues of oppression, privilege and difference?

	Extensively	Moderately	A little	Not at All	Percentage of Programs addressed issues	Programs addressed issues (N)	Programs responded (N)
S&J	70.0%	20.0%	10.0%	0.0%	100.0%	10	10
All Programs	33.1%	27.9%	21.3%	17.6%	82.3%	112	136

S&J Programs that addressed issues of oppression, privilege and difference	Extent	Strategies
A History of "Race": Colonial Era to the Obama Presidency	Extensively	This was the foundation of the entire program. If further information is desired in regards to strategies and activities, I'm available to go over my syllabus and approach with anyone who may be interested, i.e., too extensive to respond through this questionnaire...
Exclusion in America: Who Belongs	Extensively	Seminar Discussions, Lecture, Guest Speakers, Research Assignments, assigned texts, Field Trips.
Marxist Theory	Extensively	Reading and writing about revolutionary theory.
SOS: Public Policy in Washington State	Extensively	Interviews; Literature; Dialogues
Power in American Society	Extensively	Class Analysis, Race Theory, Some Gender Analysis
Environmental Health: Science, Policy and Social Justice	Extensively	A final presentation on the experience to a program or public forum. Guest speakers on a regular schedule from attorneys, lobbyists, former legislators with the State House of Representatives to toxicologists, epidemiologists and physicians dealing with Native American exposures to radium and literature dealing with minority community chemical exposures of all sorts, from international agrarian pesticides to regional industrial waste.
Washington State Legislative Internships	Extensively	A final presentation on the experience to a program or public form. Guest speakers on a regular schedule from attorneys, lobbyists, former legislators with the State House of Representatives to toxicologists, epidemiologists and physicians at the DH, DOT and Ecology dealing with migrant labor and literature dealing with minority community issues of all sorts, from agrarian to regional industrial within the state.
Political Economy and Social Movements: Local, National, and Global Transformations	Moderately	Working through texts and documentaries.
The Formation of the North American State	Moderately	In the context of the early american period.
Light Step: Designing for a Sustainable World	A little	Engagement with community projects, including the Capital Clubhouse downtown (an organization for homeless people with mental health issues), lecture and discussion on "zones of social abandonment" and ways public spaces reflect inequalities, etc