

Water and Oil: Do They Mix?

A Community Conversation of How
Water and Oil Decisions Affect Economic Policy

Public Symposium-Open to the Public
Hosted by the Masters of Public Administration (MPA) Program,
The Evergreen State College

Location

Saturday, May 6, 2017
Olympia Center
222 Columbia St. NW
Olympia, Washington, 98501

Agenda

9:00 am

Opening Remarks

Eric S Trevan, PhD, Member of the Faculty, The Evergreen State College

9:15am

Water Panel

Joe Cushman, Economic Development Director,
Nisqually Indian Tribe

Nathaniel Jones, Mayor Pro Tem, City of Olympia

Twylia Westling, MPA Community Activist

10:30am

Break

10:45am

Oil Panel

Malia Villegas, PhD, Vice President of Corporate Affairs,
Afognak Native Corporation and Former Director,
Policy Research Center, National Congress of American Indians

Larry Geri, DPA, Member of the Faculty, The Evergreen State College

12:00pm

Closing Remarks

Lachezar "Lucky" Anguelov, PhD, Member of the Faculty, The Evergreen State College

MPA The Evergreen State College appreciates the generosity of the City of Olympia and the contribution of the Olympia Center