What new sessions, topics, or ideas would you like to see at a future All-campus Mentoring Day?

A session where students could bring in an idea of a program that is not currently taught.
Agriculture, Ecology
Brainstorming sessions for student participation at Evergreen, having opportunities for students to mentor each other, & opportunities for students to network with faculty in their field.
Bring the arts back! More diverse programs, lets get creative and funky
Discussion of potential future classes. What classes students want.
Eco-engineering although that's kind of similar to sustainable design
Film this and put it online
GRE prep? Or how to do well for the GRE.
How to apply to MIT. Breaking down endorsements e.g. elementary education, etc.
How to deal with trash
How to improve abilities to learn independently
I don't know, more specific info coming?
Interesting career opportunity ideas - nonstandard careers
Internship application workshops
Job options after college, pre-requisites for graduate school
Language and pre-requisites; how to fulfill at Evergreen
Literature and writing workshops
Masters in relation to jobs
More "After Evergreen" / "How to get most out of academic journey"
More career development/after Evergreen topics
More career planning
More things for graphic novels and art/writing combinations
More things like this, betterment, preparation
Need to know more particulars & questions to ask
Not sure, all the current sessions cover topics of relevance
Peace and conflict studies, conflict resolution/transformation
Political science & international affairs for undergrads
Politics
Questions that need to be answered but where do I look? Tips and advice.
Racism, culture depression, developing policy with direction to develop tribal organizations law, policies and lived effect of.
Subject specific sessions, perhaps (Education, STEM, Non-profit, etc.)
There should be a career day
This was exactly what I was looking for.
