

End-of-Program Review 2010-11
Addressing Oppression, Privilege and Difference - Tacoma program (TAC)

	Extensively	Moderately	A little	Not at All	Percentage of Programs addressed issues	Programs addressed issues (N)	Programs responded (N)
Tacoma Program	100.0%	0.0%	0.0%	0.0%	100.0%	1	1
All Programs	32.3%	26.3%	19.2%	22.2%	77.8%	77	99

TAC Programs that addressed issues of oppression, privilege and difference	Extent	Strategies
With Liberty and Justice for Whom?	Extensively	All Campus Lyceum series; Spring Fairs for entire Pierce County community; various forums including DSHS, U.S. Department of Education, Affordable Housing Consortium; class lectures; student generated projects; The Conversation group (a community group representative of individuals and organizations across Pierce County) hold regular meetings regarding social justice and community advocacy; Commission on African American Affairs forums centered on education and student advocacy; Achievement Gap events (Lyle Quasim, Tacoma Public Schools, Office of the Superintendent of Public Education in WA State); Lyceum lectures this past year - Health Care Forum, Sen. Rosa Franklin; Sam Reed; Maureen Taylor (community organizer from Michigan); Immigration Panel; Sarah Wilcox from Cascade Harvest (community gardens); Yalonda Sinde, Association of Environmental Health Professionals; work of Tacoma Campus Pre-Law Club in collaboration with Volunteer Legal Services to assist community members with criminal records with expungement